

My Internship in Västerås, Sweden

Jack Woolley

First few days at Stockholm

The beginning...

Stockholm

- We went to meet up with the teachers, and we walked around the city, looked at museums, bars, etc.

Stockholm

- On the 1st of June there was a really big bank holiday. They used this as an opportunity to have a manifestation.
- It was against the government, because the government wants to stop immigrants from coming in to Sweden. So they were against that.

Stockholm

- By the docks more manifestations were going on. Also some exhibitions.

Stockholm

- So to finish our last day in Stockholm we walked along the lake on a beautiful path. It was really nice. Everyone had their own barbecue going. It was lit.

Västerås

- So on my first day at my job. I was really nervous. But as I got there the teachers were all very chilled, nice and humble. The first week I was at Carlforsska gymnasiet. It is well known for its media program. They had just finished their final exams in the media section. And here is some of their work. Also got to my new flat, there was a little bit of trouble to get it, but it all worked out just fine in the end. Unfortunately I do not have any images of my flat, but I do of the views.

Västerås

They had amazing equipment for the students to use. And are always at their disposal when ever they need it. Like guitars, top of the range cameras, drums, etc. They also had a really big theatre for the dance and acting students.

Västerås

So what did i do? You might be asking.

That first week I was with Kent, an amazing chap. We had to check out all the routers in the school because there was a major internet failure. Also there are around 5.000 MacBook Air. One for each student. and another 1.000 for the teachers. Through out the week students would come in to his office with some issues. Some easy to solve. Other not so easy.

They also had other electrical equipment, that if failed we also fixed them.

Västerås

The following 4 weeks I spent them with another amazing man called Sammy. He is one of the I.T. Administrators. He goes every week to 4 different schools in this town.

Västerås

- Carlforsska:

Carlforsska is his main school, it is also the one with the most students. His office was open all day to help the students with their problems. Also the teacher had lots of problems. Lots of pc we would re-install the O.S that they have preconfigured. Others where more complex than that. Also they had monitors, speakers, that did not work so we did them as well.

The school below all had I-Pads, so there were also many issues with them.

Västerås

- Traneliska

This was the biggest school in Sweden at one point. It had 3 different schools inside this one big plot. It is well known for being a cooking school. They have a real restaurant inside, to practice their skills in the kitchen. It was amazing to see. They had Lenovo, so there were different kinds of problems with the pc. More hardware maintenance.

Västerås

- Edströmska.

This school is divided in to 2 schools. One is a car mechanic school. Basically they learn to be car mechanics. Also truck drivers, lorries, etc. They have amazing equipment for the student to learn. Here they also had Lenovo. Not as many issues as the other school. I got to try a truck simulator, and a lorry simulator. They were so fun!!

Västerås

- Edströmska.

The other school is a flight mechanic school. This school blew my mind. Basically building planes, learning how to fly them, etc. They have a lot of parts donated to them, but the amount of equipment is fantastic.
